Contract adoption among Canadian grape growers and wine producers

Bodo Steiner
University of Southern Denmark
Department of Border Region Studies/ The Danfoss Center of Global Business bsteiner@sam.sdu.dk

A survey was conducted amongst grape growers and wine producers in the Okanagan Valley, British Columbia, to analyze firm-specific factors impacting the choice of different contract types. The results are contrasted to previous survey evidence from Australia and California.

Keywords: binary logit; contract adoption; wine; Canada